

Sooner or Later This Guy's Gonna Fall

Come one, come all. Watch this guy, he's gonna fall. Sorry, it's not a death-defying circus act, or the heroic rescue of a stranded kitty. It's just the incredible stupidity of one man trying to do his job.

It's not enough that he's walking with the ladder between his legs while hanging on to a not-so-tight wire. He also has to do it in the middle of an intersection (note the truck driving by).

Let's get real here. We all know that to get the job done, we must often use our inventive noodles to do certain things. It's when you compromise safety that you end up with your noodle all over the pavement.

Use the right equipment for the job and don't sacrifice safety for time or convenience.
