

A Shocking Discovery

A rather shocking discovery was made during a routine safety inspection at a command in Newport, RI. A hungry rat, dead by electrocution, was found poking out from an electrical socket inside one of the buildings. These pesky critters don't typically go inside the buildings, but are common outside because of the building's proximity to the bay.

I wonder if the rat said "cheese" when they took it's picture...