

Breath of Life

This 1968 photo shows a dramatic attempt to save a man's life by performing CPR. If you were in this situation, what would you do? We see it done on TV all the time, but CPR is more than blowing a quick breath in someone's mouth and watching them spit up water. It is a lifesaving procedure that must be done properly. Learn CPR. Some day you may be called upon to give the "breath of life."
